Hi! Nancy
(actually, I'm overwhelmed)
-Bath Epstein-

To Nancy
you're a great kid
Riley

Nancy
I liked having
you in homeroom
the past 2 years
SEE you next year.

Kim Glas

Nancy, so smart
it you're making me sick!
Just kidding! Have fun this summer!
Jan

To the person I never talked to

To the Butterfly
writing you,

The 1972 ninth grade gridders had a rather disappointing season but showed a lot of pride and potential. In the first three games the Wildcats seemed to lack aggressiveness and desire. In the next two games they physically outplayed their opponents but came up on the short end on the scoreboard. The Wildcats then traveled to Newton where they played poorly against an aggressive Central team. They added to their misery by fumbling away the ball when they had a first and goal on the Newton one yard line. In their final game the Wild-cats were edged by Lenihan.

The ninth grade basketball team opened their season against cross-town rival Central, where a second half rally fell short. They then traveled to Berg where they played poorly in losing. The Wildcats won their next three in well-played games against non-conference opponent Jefferson at home, Anson at home, and Miller at Miller. They were barely edged by Newton Central after trailing by as much as fifteen. The Wildcats lacked two starters and enthusiasm in a severe pounding by Lenihan on the road but bounced back a week later against Anson. They were extremely impressive in a re-match against tall Miller but closed their season with a disappointing loss at Newton.

The eighth grade cagers opened their season with a loss to Central at Ames High's gym. They then went on the road where balanced scoring led the Wildcats to their first victory. A week later, conference powerhouse Anson easily handled the smaller Wildcats. They played well in losing to Miller at Marshalltown, to Newton Central at home, and in a thriller at Lenihan. Next week, they were crushed in a rematch with tall Anson. In their final home game, a rally in the closing minutes fell short. In their final game, the Wildcats played great basketball in a surprising victory at Newton.

Come unto me ye children.

I'm waiting!

No fooling?

Up and over!

Are you sure?

It's due TODAY?

Uh-oh! I forgot!

I'm the jolly green giant.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

 Candy's tap dance?
 when Bill R. threw up in the Banker's Life building in D.M.?
 our 1st interscholastic girl's basketball team?
 when Mary gave Bob the chewing gum laxative and told him when it was too late?
 when we watched Floppy in 4th period English?
 when Mrs. Pitlo put on a funny hat to make us sing better?
 how we stumped the cheerleaders at the last pep assembly?
 when Kim did her sit-ups in the I.M.C.?
 Mr. Vanderzyl's high-heeled shoes?
 the 9th grade French dinner when Miss Peterson got a pie in the face?
 when Nancy sat on a tomato at lunch?
 Mr. Krull's beard?
 when Mr. Bunker had a book in his desk titled, "How to keep a Mistress"?
 when Mr. Rosheim got mad in fourth period and attacked the file cabinet, the bookcase and the wall?
 the ninth grade's first, and only touchdown?
 when Mark Spitz came to school as Mrs. Simmering's substitute?
 when Luci's cake exploded in Home Ec.?
 Mr. Geise charged into the girl's locker room and Lori wasn't quite dressed?
 when Miss Peterson cried over some spilled India ink?
 when Stacey R. wrapped up his dissected grasshopper in a paper towel and put it in his pocket to take home?
 when we played duck duck goose during release time?
 when Paul A. broke two hack saw blades in ten minutes?
 playing seals in the girl's locker room?
 Mr. Rosheim singing "Joshua fit the battle of Jericho"?
 when the boys challenged the girls to a game of freeze tag?
